Launching DIAC's 2022 Arbitration Rules

In 2022, DIAC achieved a significant milestone by introducing new Arbitration Rules designed to enhance the efficiency and flexibility of arbitration procedures by incorporating best international practices. These rules further enhance Dubai's position as a leading global hub for arbitration.

The new Arbitration Rules modernise DIAC and align it with procedural best practices in leading institutions worldwide. The Rules were published following the Decree No. 34 of 2021 and its appended statute on DIAC that has brought several key advancements, including establishing the DIAC Arbitration Court, which ensures proper regulation of proceedings and awards and shifting the default seat for DIAC arbitrations to the Dubai International Financial Centre (DIFC).

The rules also introduce numerous procedural innovations, addressing time, cost, and environmental concerns. Electronic filing and exchange of requests for arbitration, answers, and pleadings are now permitted. Greater flexibility for tribunals, parties, and witnesses has been implemented, including remote hearings and virtual witness testimony options. Additionally, arbitrators can now sign awards electronically.

For the first time, third-party funding in arbitration is now recognised, with proper disclosure requirements, in addition to provisions for consolidation of multiple claims, joinder, expedited proceedings, and emergency arbitration.

DIAC's new Arbitration Rules mark a significant shift for arbitration in Dubai, strengthening Dubai's position as a leading hub for arbitration and serving as a notable achievement for DIAC in 2022, contributing to its continued growth and success.

Empowering Stakeholders: Events, Education, and Outreach

In 2022, DIAC actively participated in and organised a series of events in collaboration with CIArb to promote the Centre's expertise, share knowledge, and foster collaboration within the arbitration community. These events included hybrid events like "How to Get Your First Appointment as an Arbitrator," the 5th Arab Lawyer Forum, a three-day virtual seminar series by BRACEWELL, and the Dubai Arbitration Week. DIAC showcased its commitment to thought leadership and stakeholder engagement through these events.

Dubai Arbitration Week, in particular, was a significant success, hosting over 81 events organised by local and international arbitration centres and law firms, and attracting more than 5,000 local and international participants. The event received international recognition and covered the latest trends and developments in arbitration.

Upholding Fairness, Transparency, and Efficiency

DIAC undertook various initiatives and achievements in 2022, focusing on sustainability, inclusion, diversity, and technology investment.

Sustainability, Inclusion, and Diversity

DIAC continues to advocate for these values in its operations and the wider arbitration community. The Centre has implemented initiatives to promote environmental sustainability, gender balance, and inclusivity, ensuring all stakeholders benefit from its services and expertise. DIAC signed two pledges around sustainability and diversity and sponsored an event centred on inclusion and diversity.

Technology Investment

DIAC is investing in technology to provide accessible, neutral, and sustainable arbitration services. The Centre is exploring innovative technologies to enhance efficiency, transparency, and security in arbitration, ensuring users have a seamless experience throughout the dispute resolution process.

These initiatives and investments reflect DIAC's commitment to providing all stakeholders with a fair, transparent, and efficient arbitration experience. By actively participating in and organising events, promoting sustainability, inclusion, and diversity, and investing in technology, DIAC continues to uphold its reputation as a leading international arbitration centre.

Future Strategies
